THE RUSSIAN FEDERAL PROPERTY FUND GOVERNMENT OF RUSSIA

Leninskii str.9, Moscow, Russia,119049 ;Tel./Fax. +7 495 781 18 96 ; www.fpf.ru; sladkov.ba@fpf.ru

The Russian Federal Property Fund (RFPF) was established in February, 1992 by the Order of the Supreme Soviet of the RSFSR. According to the Decree of the President dated December 17, 1993 the RFPF was awarded the status of a specialized state institution of the Russian Federation Government and the official seller of federal assets. At the present time the RFPF carries its activities in Russia and abroad in accordance with the Russian Federation Government resolution № 925 "On the Russian Federal Property Fund".

At present the RFPF has a wide regional network consisting of 6 interregional and 29 regional departments which are operating as property funds under control and in the structures of local administrations, and as direct and regional departments of the RFPF in 78 regions of the Russian Federation. The task of the local property management institutions is to sell federal property located in their territories.

Besides selling functions, the RFPF may control state-owned stakes in the joint-stock companies, where the privatization process is not finished yet. On behalf of the RF executive power and by the order of the RF Government the RFPF may act as co-founder of commercial and financial organizations.

One of the most important current tasks of the RFPF is to stimulate the foreign investors' participation in the privatization of the Russian companies. According to this task the RFPF has created and is developing its own network of overseas representative offices. At present the RFPF representative offices are operating in Germany, Switzerland, Netherlands, Spain, Italy, United States of America, Great Britain, China, and the Middle East (Lebanon). Its main task is to inform regularly potential foreign investors about the sales of the Russian companies, blocks of shares, and to look for those who would be interested in investing into the Russian economy.

In the complicated current economic situation in Russia, the RFPF, its branches throughout Russia and representative offices and partners are a real and effective instrument which will help Russian companies to find reliable partners and to assist domestic and foreign investors in making profitable long-term investments.

Additional information about the RFPF activities is available in the Foreign Investments Department

«... a pair words about Rusnet»

Profile

Rusnet BV is a consultancy firm specialising in business services to multinationals, large and middle-large companies, mainly situated in the Benelux-area and West Europa, for their commercial activities in Russia and the European CIS. Our services consist especially in providing high-level introductions and information concerning large Russian companies and (semi-)governmental parties. Rusnet Partners lobbies within its network of federal and regional governmental sources. Furthermore, we advise concerning the proper interpretation of Russian information and its implications for the achievement of the client's aims. In addition, we guide and facilitate the client in its relations with Russian stakeholders, in particular with respect to the federal and regional authorities and (semi-) official bodies. Advise on deal-making includes overcoming differences in business cultures.

History

Rusnet was established as a result of privatisation of a part of the Russia & CIS Foreign Investment Promotions Centre "FIPC"'s activities. The primary purpose of the Foreign Investment Promotion Centre of Russia was to facilitate Western companies in their investment activities in the Russian Federation.

Rusnet proved its competence by consulting Dutch and Belgian companies and firms in the power, energysaving, industrial, agro-industrial, food-processing, transport and other sectors. Besides, it has experience in such sectors as luxury goods, shipbuilding, port development, real estate development, consumer market development, and infrastructure, telecom, environmental and social projects. Thanks to its historic relations with the official FIPC-network and the fact that its employees derived from high level official circles of the former Soviet Union, Rusnet has a wide informal network in Russia and the CIS at its disposal. The experience proves that this is a successful starting point for effective and purposeful consulting of Western companies.

At the initiative of the FIPC Rusnet has published a 'Rusnet Almanak' in 2002. Rusnet Almanak is a business-to-business yellow pages guide for companies and organisations in the Benelux doing business in Russia and C.I.S. Many companies from Russia and other CIS countries make use of the Rusnet database of Dutch and Belgian companies and other organisations. As far as internet information about Russia is concerned, Rusnet is undoubtedly the largest information source in the Dutch language area of the Benelux. More than 6,000 recipients (in particular, more than 3,000 companies in the Netherlands and Belgium) make use of the daily or weekly information e-mailed by Rusnet free of charge. The Rusnet website is leading in its branch.

In cooperation with Russian & C.I.S. companies and official organisations, Rusnet organises trade and investment missions, international conferences and seminars customised for Western companies interested in development of business relation in the Russian Federation and Ukraine.

Relocation, Moving & Storage Services

Corstjens Worldwide Movers Group is the pioneer in providing moving services in Central and Eastern Europe. Established in 1946 in the Netherlands, it started its operations in Eastern Europe by 1982, with the opening of Belgrade office. Within a short span thereafter Corstjens made its presence felt in the region as branches were established in Moscow, Warsaw, Prague, Budapest, Kyiv, Riga and other capital cities. In 1999 we became a member of the Antwerp based Gosselin group which allowed Corstjens to provide services through its own network in 42 locations around Europe and Asia. We work for leading multinationals, embassies, government institutions and private individuals; clients who highly value expertise, quality and reliability. The Group is fortunate to have a wealth of experience at its disposal, acquired during tens of thousands of moves to and from locations around the world. In Central and Eastern Europe, Corstjens can claim a special niche in the market. Perhaps one of the reasons why more than 200 multinational companies choose Corstjens Group as their preferred moving partner with Worldwide Activity & Local Expertise::: www.corstjens.com
